“ In 1965 I was a shy kid from the country that did not fit in with my button down shirt and loafer wearing classmates. From the second I walked into Betty's class (I call her Betty because we became friends later in life) I was accepted. She loved me or in my heart I felt that way. After class one day she took me aside and told me I had potential that I could achieve better things. She put her arms around me and gave me a hug and sent me out into the world. She was one of the people in life that inspired me to become a teacher. She was an angel then and she's one now.

“ Mrs. Hudson, my 9th grade biology teacher in 1990, was one of the happiest teachers I've ever had. She was always smiling and enthusiastic about the lessons. Whenever I write the word “separate”, I think of Mrs. Hudson and spell it correctly, with an ‘A’ in the middle. “Think of the word ‘part’, she would say. I teach that little trick to my own students now.
She was a special teacher to so many of us. My sympathies to her family.

“ Coming into Byrnes High School as a new student Sophomore I was a nervous wreck. God blessed me to give me the most caring homeroom teacher - sweet, precious Mrs. Hudson! Thank you for helping me make my transition a smooth one! Heaven gained another angel!

“ Betty "Ma" Hudson was my favorite teacher during my 12 years of public school. This was in spite of the fact that science was my least favorite subject. I will never forget the morning I came to school and found out about her son's tragic accident. Everyone was in shock and so sad. Not long after that I went to a Christian rock concert at a local church. Before the featured group took stage, Mrs. Hudson got up and sang "There's Just Something About That Name." Her love for the Lord was so strong. 16 years later, when I was ordained as a deacon at my church, I asked her to come sing that song, and she graciously agreed. I think about her every time I hear that song. She was a great teacher, a great lady, and a great Christian. I will never forget her. May God bless and comfort her family and all those who loved her.

“ Ma Hudson (as she was known to us students) was such an inspiration to so many of us. I had her for biology, but she was also a guidance counselor who really impacted my life for the better. She was a beautiful lady, who loved her “kids” and her “kids” loved her. Prayers for her family. Ma Hudson, thank you for loving us enough! Well done thy good and faithful servant. Class of 1974 Byrnes High.

“ Mrs. Hudson was in my Sunday School Class that I teach at the assisted living facility where she was living up until her passing. She was my "amen" corner. She loved the Lord and she looked forward to being with the Lord Jesus. She always had a sweet smile every Sunday and always participated singing, praying, or just nodding her head which was a great inspiration to me. If she had to miss the class, she requested that I save the devotional printout that I give out every Sunday for her till the next week so that she wouldn't miss any. I loved her.
