“ While I don't personally know Aaron well, I am a neighbor of his extended family. I remember watching Aaron play when he was younger with his brother, Josh. I am very sorry his life was so brief. Truly we can't make much sense of this right now, but in the days to come my hope is that we will catch a glimpse of some "good" that may arise from these dark days. In the mean time, I pray for comfort for his family and friends.

To the family of Aaron, our prayers are with you during this period of sadness and grief. We don't always know why things happen so early in life, but our prayers are that he is in God's hand.
