“ Our thoughts and prayers are with the family.

Heaven has gained a wonderful and bright angel. Aaron was a wonderful father, husband and friend. He treated everyone with such kindness and he never seemed to meet a stranger. Seeing his bond with his family was refreshing. I will always remember him at the pool trying to get his Madelyn and Michelle out of the water after being there for hours. Also I will remember his smile, positive attitude, intelligence, and his way of making people laugh.

“ It was one of my great pleasures to watch Aaron grow from a green entry level engineer when I hired him out of Georgia Tech to the office leader of Infrastructure Engineers’ South Carolina office. There are so many fond memories associated with working with him, especially in the field doing bridge inspections around the nation. Whether it was watching him play “chicken” with an alligator in South Florida (as the picture illustrates) or standing naked and alone on a bridge pier in the middle of Lake Texoma after Dodd left him there to swim back (long story and no photos), Aaron was always a good team member and friend.

“ My memories of Aaron are as a boy, sitting in church holding onto his tattered, loved blanket (when he was very small), singing in the children’s choir and attending VBS, attending church camps in the summers, and Roopville Elementary School. Aaron was such a sweet, smart boy. He was such good friends with Bonnie. I enjoyed watching him grow up. We loved him and will miss him in this world. My love and prayers go out to Lois, Aimee, and Aaron’s wife and babies.
