“ I have just received the news about Allen and I can't believe it. I have to share the statement by one of his other friends who said they "can't believe your not here". Neither can I. When I met Allen in Maryland I invited him to go to the Pocono race with us. We were steadfast friends from then on and traveled together as far north as Indianapolis, Ind. and as far south as Atlanta to attend races with our extended racing family (as many as 13 at many of the races). We bar hopped, played darts, pool, horseshoes you name it (and I have to admit he always beat me), Allen was always game. After Allen moved to SC we stayed in touch but as happens time and distance lessened our communications, I will put that one on me. Allen was the kind of friend a person wishes they could be to all their other friends. He was there through thick and thin. He always put his family and friends first and was always first with a helping hand. I had met Summer in MD but not the rest of his extended family, I did not know it was so large but am glad to hear it, I am sure it brought him much happiness. My shared sorrow and sympathy to all of you and thank you to those who shared your pictures of Allen, I will go through mine and send copies to the family.

Andy, I am Candace's sister. Thank you for your kind words. I just posted two recent photos one of Candace and Allen at my wedding 3 months ago and one that was taken 3 Sundays prior to his death. He was actually buried at the same cemetery as the friends funeral he was headed to. He was always there for a friend and ready to help. This picture is the last time I saw him, I was in town and left that afternoon. He will be missed. I loaded the pictures and they stated pending approval, so check back if they are not there. They really capture his personality.

“Allen became a member of our racing family when Andy Anderson invited him to attend a race with him and Jeff. After one race, he became a regular and we attended 4 or 5 races a year. How was so much fun and we all enjoyed his company. My wife and I are sorry for your loss as well as ours. After Dale Earnhardt died we quit going to races and loss touch, but I know he remained a friend. We will inform the rest of our racing family, again we are sorry . David and Marty Phillips

“ First of all I'm going to miss Allen's introduction when he come into the office "never fear Allen's here" pulling at his shirt like superman always announced with enthusiasm!! Giving everyone the reassurance if something needed fixed he had the answers or in his words "Buddy I Got This" Allen is a good friend a great boss and I never worried even when things were not perfect he worked best under pressure. I remember him more than once telling potential clients "we want the work that no one else can do, because we can do it" he believed in all of us and there was nothing we couldn't do as a team. He would go to bat for us in a heart beat all you had to do was say something about one of his employees and it was no more mr. nice guy!! Words can't express the void in our everyday life that will never be filled. Allens had the same ambition for his family as he did his company. He was always sharing videos with us of things the grand kids and him were doing and he was a very proud Grandfather. He made sure his family got to enjoy life even if it meant he had to stay behind and work with us to make dead lines. I could go on and on with stories and the things he did for everyone. I will miss you TURKEY.

“ Allen was a loving father and grandfather. He was my first true love. He was smart, funny, and hard working but the word that comes to my mind the most is charming. Big Al could charm the horns off a billy goat.

He was not always in my life but he is forever in my heart. Because we share our beautiful daughter Summer, he is a part of my past, my present and my future, for we shall meet again.

RIP Al,
