My heart goes out to all of you in this loss of a beloved son. May the Lord comfort and keep you all as you grieve for this young man and take comfort in the fact that he had come to know Jesus as his Saviour.

“ Today I drove around Greenville listening to the music Andy and I would often dance and laugh to in my car. He used to live in the apartments next to mine and we would often spend the afternoons talking about our lives and recovery, running around seeing other friends and going to meetings, and just generally trying to figure out how to take the next step in bettering each of our lives. Today I tried to be happy rather than give in to my sadness because I know that is what he would want. He was a spunky, loving, rowdy, kind person and I am better for having known him. I pray that he has now found the peace he could not find here. Rest in Peace Andy. We will all miss you greatly. My deepest sympathies go out to his family.
