Tribute Wall

“ To The Dillard & Corn Family,
I'm a North Carolina neighbor who read where a dear loved one had just recently died. The Bible gives us hope to cope with situations such as these. No matter how prepared families may be for something as sad as death, when it happens it's devastating. Scriptures I enjoy sharing with families are as follow: Isaiah 25:8 " The Sovereign Lord Jehovah will swallow up death forever." Revelation 21:3-5 we learn how God is with his people and pain, sorrow, nor outcry will be no more. He'll remove all tears. John 5:28, 29 we're comforted by means of the resurrection hope through Jesus Christ.
I hope these scriptures will bring your family some great comfort at this time. My condolences to you and I apologize for your lost.
Sincerely
One of Jehovah's Witnesses##imported-begin##Angela Dingle##imported-end##

“ It's always sad when we lose a dear love one to the enemy, death. Death isn't natural for any of us to experience. No matter how much we try to prepare ourselves it hurts dearly when it happens. Death wasn't anything our Grand Creator Jehovah wanted the human family to ever go through. Therefore, he made provisions for us where we can find comfort and keep our hopes strengthen. At John 5:28, 29 by means of the ransom sacrifice we have the wonderful hope of the resurrection. Isaiah 25:8 we read where soon our Sovereign Lord will swallow up death forever. So soon we have the future hope of the Paradise when we will see our dear loved ones again living upon this earth forever in peace. I sincerely hope these scriptures has given you some sanity and comfort to help you cope with your lost. Sorry for your lost and my sincere regrets goes out to you.

Yours Truly
