“ I worked under Mark in Tripoli, Libya-frequently saving him lunches since his mtgs with government officials always ran long. I remember Mark visiting Spain and having his backpack stolen including laptop and passport; he said he thought of the guys trapped at the time in mine shafts in S. America and decided things could be worse. Mark was your ideal colleague to work with and a dear friend.

“ Gwinn, Scott Reboul just told me about Mark and I am beyond shocked. I was just thinking of him the other day. And I told the story recently about when Mark was giving his ESE talk in seminar with an overhead projector and commented when he was trying to point something out, “Is this room moving?” I loved Mark and his wonderful spirit.
