“ The memories that have stuck in my head for my whole life is spending the weekend when i was a small child, Glenn and i rode his mini bike to Tooter Town with a gallon milk jug and got gas for it at 33 cents a gallon, then rode back and had fun all day with that and Harold Dean and his orange truck and his tractor. Sunday morning we got up, Doris had fixed us a big breakfast and we all ate and went to church. On the ride to church, Doris turned around from the front seat and saw I had some jelly on my cheek and she licked her thumb and came at me to clean it off and I (like a shy kid) scurried into the floorboard to dodge her thumb. 😬🌀😂 never will forget that weekend. I've lived it over and over in my mind my whole life as the memory of the first and cheapest gallon of gas I ever bought. My heart felt prayers and condolences go out to the family, my family! 💕💕 We love you all! Another angel has entered heaven this past week!

“ Mrs. Forrester was my 1st grade teacher at Tryon St. I remember being nervous about that first day of school and how she made us all feel like we were important to her and that everything was going to be just fine. That is a memory from a long time ago, but I still recall it. Prayers for all of you during this time .
