“ Denise and April, losing a mother is so very difficult, but from experience, I can tell you that God will be your strength, comfort, peace and He will help you through this time of loss. She is where she has longed to be for a very long time, in Heaven and with your dad. It comforts me to know that she has a new body and is able to express herself without limitations. Both of you and your families and uncle will be in my prayers.
