“ Terri, you never knew me but I knew your dad when he came down to the New Orleans area to work at Goodhope Refinery back in the late 1980s. His stepson also joined him to get work. I even got to meet your grandmother, Dot when she came into town. I also spoke to her a few times over the phone.

I am so sorry for the loss of your father. I know that loss was a very tough experience to handle. Please know that I thought he was a good-natured man and quite a moral character which I admired. He mentioned you of course in relating to his family. My boyfriend and your Dad worked together at the huge Oil Refinery. I worked for the refinery too but for a different division.

I am sorry I didn't see his death for so very long.
