“ Mrs. Few was a good neighbor to all. My mother lived across from her, and Mrs. Few loved her yard, and her tomato plants. She was out cutting her own grass probably in her 90's. She was a very nice lady who loved life, and everyone loved her.

“ As a single mother, Elsie was always willing to help me out with Josh. If I couldn't pick him up at school and he had to ride the bus. Elsie would call and tell me when he got home. If she has sweets she would invite Josh down to have milk and cookies. She would sit in her backyard and watch Josh (and all the neighborhood kids) play ball. It was a home run if the ball landed in her yard. you would see her get up and grab the ball... walk to the fence to hand the ball to one of the boys. There was a couple of time she was the deciding factor if the ball went foul or not.

Josh could never understand how I knew what he was up to when I was at work... Because Elsie was always looking out for him.
