“ Aunt Frances was a classy lady and always fun to be around. She loved to tell how I got into her kitchen cabinet when I was a toddler and pulled all the labels off her canned food. She said every meal became a surprise. Diane was born when Dan was 18 years old. Wallace said they believed in raising their children one at a time. Frances said she didn't want to be lonely while Dan was at Clemson. Wallace and Frances could always have us laughing. The world has been a better place because they lived in it.

“ Aunt Frances was such a grand lady. She always smiled as she talked or listened to you, and she could have you laughing in no time at some of the stories she could tell. I always enjoyed visiting at their home when I was a kid. Aunt Frances and the rest of her family made us feel right at home. I will always treasure those memories.

Diane i'm really sorry to hear about your mother. I've been thinking about you alot since I heard the news, and praying too, I've learned through the loss of my dad, and i know you have too that the only things that can heal the hurt enough to survive is God above, and the passing of time which it never seems fast enough. Lot of people are thinking and praying for you and your family. God Bless
