“ It's so crazy that I still feel the need to write in your guestbook. I still miss you so much, I am almost done with school and I wish you could be at my graduation. There will definitely be a vacancy there, as there is in my heart. I just miss you so much, I would give anything for one more day to just sit with you and talk. I know you are in a better place and I know I will see you on the other side. I still love you so much!###imported-begin##Marcia Hindman###imported-end##

“ Hey Fred, I wanted to sign your guestbook to let you know how much I am thinking of you tonight. I miss you more everyday it seems. Instead of getting easier, I think it's getting harder. Each day that goes by the reality that you aren't here to hug me anymore becomes more and more real. Anyhow, I wanted to let you know how much I love you and how everyday I think of how much you did for me and how I will always be grateful and indebted to you. I am so glad I was able to tell you all I needed to tell you before it was too late, I think that and the fact that I will see you again one day is the only thing that allows me to put one foot in front of the other. I love you and miss you so much!###imported-begin##Marcia Hindman###imported-end##

“ Unfortunately I never got the privilege to meet Fred. I was blessed, however, to meet his daughter Marcia, a young women who exudes such kindness, generosity, and good-heartedness that Im confident he was equally as great a person. Rest in Peace Fred, this world is lacking because of your loss. Please know that you are so loved and missed dearly.##imported-begin##Dawn Kennedy##imported-end##

“ I am not sure what to do without Fred being here. He was basically the only dad I ever had after my dad passed away at age 8. I will forever be grateful to him on so many levels for all he taught me with words and through example. All the good and all the bad, he made me who I am today. I have always loved him and always will. If he could read this now I would hope he is proud of the way his service was handled and the way his ashes were taken to Cherokee as he had instructed. His brother Joe and Mother did a wonderful job caring for him and I will always be grateful to them for it. I miss you Fred (Daddy) LOVE YOU ALWAYS, YOU WILL NEVER BE FORGOTTEN##imported-begin##Marcia Hindman##imported-end##
