

Grace Hoole

November 19, 1919 - December 2, 2017

Grace Anita Frederick Hoole, 98, widow of Thomas Edwin Hoole, passed away peacefully on December 2, 2017 in Taylors, SC.

Born on November 19, 1919 in Jersey City, NJ, Grace was the daughter of the late Charlotte (Kaul) and Francis Jenkins Craddock Frederick. Grace grew up in and spent much of her early life in Irvington, NJ. She worked for a time at the FBI and Esso Eastern, where she met her future husband. After she and Tom were married, they moved to Pound Ridge, NY to raise their family.

Before the kids were grown, Tom's work took them on several moves, including Palembang, Indonesia and Spring, TX. They spent their retirement years first in The Villages, FL and then near Greenville, SC.

Grace will be remembered as a wonderful wife, daughter, sister, mother and grandmother and will be missed by all those whose lives she touched. She devoted herself to her family. She was a wonderful cook preparing many delicious meals over the years and was renowned for her ability with a sewing machine, making costumes for church plays, clothes for younger children, even sleeping bags and parkas. She enjoyed travelling, especially to the national parks in the US and Canada. On the numerous family cross-country camping trips, it was amazing what she could cook on a two-burner propane camp stove or conjure up from a cooler in the backseat of the station wagon. Grace was very fortunate to be able to spend her last years in the company of her daughter, Barbara, her family and several wonderful caregivers including Kim, Irene, Toni and Carrie. This meant a great deal to her and provided real comfort and good company when she needed it most.

Grace is survived by her daughter Barbara Ballew (David) of Taylors, her sons Tom Hoole (Caroline) of Scottsdale, Arizona and Jeff Hoole (Nancy) of Schenectady, New York, and six grand children, Renee Ballew, Evan Hoole, Tracy Hoole, Katherine Hoole, Michael Hoole and Elizabeth Hoole.

Online condolences may be made at www.thewoodmortuary.com.