“ I first met Jim when working with the Middle Tyger Lions. I knew of Jim through my dad, Phil. Phil LOVED Jim so much and once I joined the Lions, I understood why. He was always doing good things for so many people, though he was always quiet about his service. He loved his family and his face would always light up when he spoke of all their accomplishments. Remember the wonderful times you all had together in the following days, weeks and months.

“ Dennis, I read with sadness of your father's passing. Every time I went through Duncan, I passed his business. We miss you and prayers are sent your way.

Joe and Jim met when they became charter members of the Middle Tyger Lions Club. They spent many hours together serving the community. We became very good friends with Jim and Sally, and also with the whole of the Lindey family. He will be sadly missed. Our prayers go out for all of you.

“ Jim was my father Phil's best friend. They shared the same birthday. They also shared the love of motorcycles and anything else with wheels! I met Jim through my father and was lucky enough to become one of his many friends, I would always try to have dinner with him on Monday's. I always tried to learn as much as could from the both of them.

Even after my father passed towards the end of last year I was blessed to have Jim in my life, He was instrumental in helping me get through my fathers death even though I think he hurt as much as I did. I have been thinking about Jim nonstop since I was told the news of his illness. I now have lost two of my best friends. I asked him on Saturday what am I supposed to do losing two of the wisest men I have ever known. In only the way he could he informed me that I was as much as a smart ass as him and I would do fine. He then told me I needed to get my life back and live it to the fullest. Have no regrets. That now is my number one goal!

To the whole Lindey Family I feel your loss. I may not have met all of you but I know you. He always spoke of you and told me what and how everyone was doing. The world has lost a great man. A man with a great sense of humor. A man who truly loved those close to him.

The only Peace I have found in my heart is hoping that he and my dad will ride together again...soon.

My love to all of you!
