“ To my mother not only one of the strongest and most brave and beautiful individuals I will ever have the honor not only to know but to be related and connected to! Mom you were more than a mother, you were a best friend, a soul mate, an ear when needing to be heard, a hand in the dark when you felt so lost and alone. It's been two months almost now and this is just now when I can muster up the words to put down to say just who you were to me... I never met anyone who was so selfless so brave so considerate of everyone else beyond themselves you made me into the person I am today, but in comparison I'm only a fifth of the woman I know you were. Thank you for never giving up on me, even when you should have and most everyone else did you never treated me with any less respect than you did in the end and which I know you should have. If only there were more people like you this world it would be so bright it would blind us all. Thank you for my life for making me be so fortunate enough to say you were the reason I'm here who I am and where I am at today. You deserve so much and beyond I love you mom and there will not be one second of any day I do not miss you or think about you I promise rest easy my beautiful Jan Jan, till I see you again I will count the days I love you ❤️

“ There are very few people in this world who have a heart as sweet as yours was. I have only been around for a short time but you always welcomed me with warmth. And I will always carry that love with me no matter where I go. Thank you, I love you dearly.

“ I went to school with Janice all through school. We were born on the same day, only hours apart. I hated to see the news of her passing. She was a friend and I'm sending my sincere condolences to her family. She will be missed.
RIP Janice.
