Jay always made me smile and laugh, no matter what the day brought. His sense of humor was singular, warm, and rare. May he find peace and watch over his loved ones and family until the day they meet again. My thoughts are with them.

“ It's true, the good die young. Jay is truly one of a kind and thankfully, he spent most of his life putting smiles on other's faces. We all know times like these are around the corner, but no one said that we had to enjoy it.

What I did enjoy though, was all the times that Jay gave of himself so others would have it easier or forget about their trouble of the day. People like Jay are few and far between. Appreciate the ones like Jay while they are here and live like them when they are gone to honor what they taught you.

Jay always said that we should be happy we knew him while he was here and that I should be Mayor!

I am very happy to say that Jay Godfrey is my friend and I'm very very happy to know him.

“ The hardest part of loving someone is saying goodbye. Jay was a coworker that I had the privilage in knowing and working alongside with for many years, words cannot express the grief and sorrow my heart has beared. But what I can say is....Jay was the one who helped me stay positive during the times when I faced adversity in my personal life and I'll never forget that. I could always count on him to tell me what I needed to hear... even if I didn't want to hear it. How lucky I am to have known someone who was so hard to say goodbye too. You will be missed my friend, thanks for the enlightened conversations and wonderful jocular memories we shared!

“ One of the first and best memories I have of Jay was when I worked at DC2-adidas with him. He was so friendly, kind, and funny. He started telling me all about his life....that was overcoming some very powerful OCD tendencies and showed me about them, he talked about his wife, and told me that he liked to make music beats on his cellphone. I think I laughed the whole shift that I worked with him. He was a very light-hearted man that he made all of those around him feel his happiness and make it their own as well. He will be missed while here in this life but we'll see him again in the next. I am so sorry to his family for your loss. I will keep his loved ones in my prayers.

“ To the Godfrey family, please accept my deepest sympathies on your loss. No words express the difficulty of coping with death although I pray the promise God gives in the scriptures strengthen you through this ordeal. . . .And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away.” Rev 21; 4
