Born and raised in Charlotte, she carried her warmth and kindness throughout her life. In 1956, she married the love of her life, William Caldwell, and together they built a beautiful family. She was also a wonderful cook and a gracious entertainer, always bringing friends and family around her table. She had a remarkable talent for interior decorating and took great joy in creating a warm, beautiful home.

Above all, she will be remembered for her kindness, her vibrant personality, her beautiful smile and the deep love she gave so freely. She touched
