“Joyce was a very dear friend for over 45 yrs. She was my first friend in California and remained so until her death. My heart grieves for the loss. Joyce was fun and funny, a great dancer, a terrific cook, and the most faithful friend a person could ask for. She knew what you needed to hear, and wasn't afraid to speak her mind. Her home, was your home. She and Bob are together again and both are missed by many folks who knew them through the years. Rest in Peace my dear friend, You did your time here and did it well. And don't forget to give that "Thanksgiving Turkey it's share of the Wine"..
