“ It's truly hard to wrap my head around being without you for almost 8 years now. I am finally starting to come to grips with losing you. I miss you so much it truly hurts beyond words. There are a lot of factors involved in why it's taken me so long to get here, but I pray that you look down each day and see the improvements and efforts that I am making. I love you. Thank you for being the most kind, loving, supportive mom that a son could ever need, want, or ASK for.

“ Hi mom. This week is really hitting me hard for some reason. Maybe I am finally letting myself truly feel the gravity of losing you. I sure do miss you and I am sorry it has taken me so long to truly start reading and taking the BOOK seriously. I missed out on some amazing discussions and studies with you. I am grateful each and every day for being blessed to call you mom. I hope each day I can make you a little more proud of the man I am working to become. I love and MISS you more than I can ever say.
Nolan.

“ I am so thankful that I got to spend a few days with her this summer. We drove by places she had lived and all the many quilt shops in the area where she had lots of friends. I was able to find out things about her life that I had miss during a time when I was out of the area. I also got to share with her how I felt that her and her mother have inspired so many lives during their time here on earth as they were great examples of how a Christian should live their life. She was my prayer warrior also. I just can't grasp that she is gone from us. I love you Kathie. Also sending my thoughts and prayers to Nolan and Rodney. I am sure she will be watching after you from Heaven.

“ Kathie was a faithful Christian woman, and maintaining family relationships was important to her---even extended family. For many years we received "goodies" from their California ranch to our home in Indiana. The "special treats" helped strengthen and grow our bond of love---while separated by years and miles! Thank you, Kathie! "Love one another as I have loved you." John 15:12 Patricia North Paul, First Cousin

“ She was my guardian angle when I was working graveyard. You always knew she would do what ever it took to keep you safe. Maybe gone but never forgotten and always in our hearts. A VERY special lady. I'll never forget the mad scramble to get from Yuba City to Chico when she said, over the air, "cookies". Chocolate chips cookies would be waiting.

“ I met Kathie when I went to work as a CHP Dispatcher in 1987, we worked together until her retirement. She was the greatest co-worker ever, we had many memorable and busy shifts together. “ Kathie was my niece and a very special lady. Every year she would send us walnuts from the ranch and apricot jam like her grandmother use to make. She had an unselfish heart, and would share her quilts that she made with her family and friends. What stands out with me, is her love for the Lord. Through out all of her operations she stayed steadfast. There is such a joy knowing she has just steped over and is waiting for the rest of her family and friends
