“ Ken Pierce was my beloved Husband. He loved his children and mine. He also loved me and took care of me through losing my kidneys. I remember that he always bought me Jello since it tasted the same going down and when I threw it up. He drove me to Raliegh, Atlata, and finally to MUSC in Charleston to receive the gift of a longer life from my living donar. He held my hand and my heart when we lost my oldest son just a year ago. He felt rejected by his first family but was a wonderful step-father and husband to me. I regret his not reaching out to his biological children, but he felt like he couldn't get love from them. I am sorry that his oldest child was unable to find peace in his life. He finally found peace in his life and salvation.

“ Ken Pierce was a terrible person. He abused and abandoned his children, and went to his grave without making any attempt to redeem himself. He was a pathetic excuse for a man, and the world is a better place without him.
