“ I can't imagine the pain of losing a child or a father at such a young age. I can only pray that Gods love surrounds you all during this difficult time. May you find peace on the hard days and comfort of knowing that Kyle's smile and loving spirit affected so many lives in a positive way. He had a very special place in my heart. I have faith I will see him again when I meet my Lord and Savior. You were blessed with an angel who will never be forgotten.

“ We first met Kyle when he was about 16 when he and our son Ricky became friends. We often referred to Kyle as our other son, and he called us Mom and Pops. Kyle always entered our home and left our home by giving us a big hug and telling us he loved us. We watched him as the years passed, graduation and the birth of his daughter (his pride and joy) and when he was diagnosed with the cancer. Kyle was so brave and so strong and so upbeat, always smiling and wanting to lift someone's spirits. We love you Kyle and we will miss your smile, your heart and your loving and caring spirit. Heaven called an angel home and we are happy that now Kyle has a perfect body and no more pain but he will be missed greatly by those he left behind. Praying for his family during this time of sadness. Rick and Betty McCadden

“ I had the pleasure of being Kyle's physical therapists for a brief time a few year years ago. He was an amazing young man who loved his family and especially his little girl. He had struggles, like we all do, but was doing his best to overcome them and did not want to give up. I have fond memories of him. Will be praying for his entire family for their loss.

“ What a bright light Kyle exuded. He was one of the kindest souls, I have ever had the priveledge of meeting. In light of his own pain, suffering, or hand dealt, he would always ask How are you, express thinking of you, or want to give love to others. Know your son, brother, father, is thought of in that light by so many. Prayers of love and support to all. And Kyle, I hope you are experiencing a peace greater than this world will ever know. We won't forget you.

“ Donna, Bennie, Ambrea,
I am so, so sorry to see this. I loved Kyle so much and I will miss seeing him. He was a wonderful son, daddy and friend. There are no words I can say that will help you in your terrible time of grief but know I am praying for all of you and I love ya'll. I do know the pain, heartbreak and sadness you are going through. Please, I am here if I can help you in anyway. Anytime day or night I will talk, cry, listen, and even laugh with you. Take your wonderful memories, put them in that huge, empty hole in your heart and bring them out anytime you want. They do help. Praying God's Peace is surrounding you now. I love you.
