“ All my memories of Laura are good ones. She was a caring, compassionate person who always shared what she had and went out of her way to be a friend. We played basketball on the local textile league team, and I followed her to Lander. I spent many weekdays driving her mom to Lander to pick up Laura for the weekend, and then over the next three years, we shared many trips back and forth to Lander. One of my favorite memories of Laura is of her dancing outside the concession stand at Table Rock. We spent many weekend days there swimming, eating, and enjoying our time in the sun. Laura was always the more adventurous swimmer and a fine, fit athlete. Our adult lives were separate but we had renewed our high school and college friendship in the last few years. I had written Laura while she was in Florida and had told her how very much her friendship had meant to me many years ago. I am so very glad that I was able to see her when she was in St. Francis Hospital a month ago. Thankfully, I did tell Laura that day that I had never forgotten what a friend she had been to me during our youth. I shall mourn her passing and shall always remember her as a beautiful girl but also as a close, dear friend.
