“ Larry was my brother-in-law but he was more like a brother. Larry loved family and was always happy to be together, Often times we would not see each other for months and at times years, but when we did it was like we had not skipped a beat. We shared many conversations during our time together and always loved each other even though we may have differed on the subject. I will sorely miss my brother, however, I will see him again. He no longer lives with the promise of being with the Lord, it is now his reality! Well don Larry, I will miss you but I will never forget you.
