“ So sorry I didn't know about Louise's passing. We have been friends over fifty years. I will miss our long conversations on the phone and a few short visits before I lost my husband. Rest In Peace dear friend. Love, Marion

“ I was saddened when I read that Louise had died. I must admit that it is hard to call her Louise since my family and I called her and still think of her as "Deese". She came into my life when I was a teenager, and I claimed Ann as my sister. One memory that I cherish is how she would iron my skirt dry when I got to her house on rainy mornings on my walk to school. She and her family moved next door to us. She was such a good friend. She would come home from work in the morning, and before going into her home, she would come to my house to take care of my mother who was having complications after the birth of my sister, Renae. I can tell you that my mother loved her and remembered her kindness until the day she died in 2012. We loved and still cherish the memories of Louise and her family. I can not help but think that my mother and daddy met her and started sharing memories and laughing and telling new stories. God bless each one of you.

I am so sad that I didn't know about my dear friend, Louise's passing. We were friends for over fifty years but lost contact when I moved to Florida. After moving back we got in touch and spent many hours talking on the phone. Until I lost my husband a year ago last week, he would drive me to visit once-in-a-while. I will surely miss you Dear Friend but we will all be together in Heaven one day. Rest IN Peace until we meet again. Love, Marion Jennings
