“ I loved my Aunt Lucy. She was a real joy growing up with her. She always had beautiful long semi curly hair that just bounced when she walked, and the prettiest smile.
Aunt Lucy was my mother [Janet (Millard) DeCaire] youngest sister. We as a family would spend lots of time doing things together. Those were such precious days. My Aunt was a good cook, and she always had something on the stove. When she lived on Haken Road, she did cake decorations. I loved watching her make daisies. I was just amazed.
She is the last of that generation to leave us, but Heaven is now having a great Millard family reunion. What a glorious day that will be for my grandparents to have their last baby home. I'm crying because she is gone, but my heart is happy because Aunt Lucy is with her parents, but also in the arms of Jesus .
