“ Mae was such a beautiful, sweet, Christian lady. She always had a smile on her face. I missed seeing her at church but did get to see her at Bayberry Retirement Inn before she went to The Cottages. She will be missed. Mertie Taylor

“ How I treasure the visit I had with Mae on Christmas Eve. I almost didn't go because I thought she might be with her family. She said she had cancelled her plans to go to her daughter's because she wasn't feeling quite up to par. My mother and Mae were childhood friends, so she shared some memories of their school days. We laughed together and talked of friends. Then she told me how much she was missing being able to go to church and to attend WMU meetings. The Associational WMU meetings is where I used to see her most often. What a precious, beautiful lady with such a sweet smile! What a great privilege was mine to have known her. I look forward to the day when I will see her again.
