“ The moment Nanny came into this world it became a better place. I am thankful for her strong christian influence and pray that I can be an ounce of the person she was. God blessed me with two wonderful mothers that provided me with so much more than I deserve. I am also thankful that Chad, Maggie and Nicklaus were able to know Nanny and see her influence on our family. I thanked Nanny this week for all of these things and also for the chicken and dumplings, teaching me how to drive (SCARY), taking me to slick em rock and always being there to comfort me no matter what. I thanked her because she prayed for us all, from "our heads to our toes", she taught me scriptures when I started talking, and she picked me up from school when I was sick. She was the glue that kept us all together. To my family: I am sorry we can't see her face right now because she is smiling more than ever. I love you all...Erin##imported-begin##Erin Poole##imported-end##
