“ He was way too young for this. One of the last times I talked with him it became evident that he did know the Lord, so he is without doubt in a better place.

Malcolm was a great guy, and a good freind, he will be greatly missed.

“ I've known Malcolm since elementary school. He was always doing dare devil stunts on his motorcycles and later his hot rod cars. He had an amazing mind for the mechanical and continued to exhibit those talents when we worked together in the Engineering Dept. at Honeywell. He always had a smile on his face and a story to tell. Mal had the ability to amaze us all with his feats of strength, his gift for building high performance car engines, riding wheelies on his Gold Wing, and countless other things. He would make you laugh with his stories and you never knew what he might do next. Mal had a child like wonder and had no problem with living on the edge. He has provided many memories that bring laughs and smiles, and now one that brings a tear." Ride On Big Mal' ! " Thoughts and prayers to your family. May God Bless and comfort you...##imported-begin##Gregg McAlister##imported-end##

“ I had the pleasure of only working with Malcolm for a few months before he went out on a medical leave. Malcolm was a very intelligent person and had 4 or 5 patents from the United States Patent Office. He was a open and devoted Christian and took the time to thank the Lord daily for his blessings. At lunch time he would walk around inside the plant several times waving and talking to everyone he could. While he was in the Hospital in early 2010 I visited him several times and though he was in great pain sometimes he was friendly and talkative. I am confident the he is enjoying his new home and new body in heaven and enjoying a cool motorcycle drive on the Golden Streets.

God Bless
