“ George and Marge were such precious people who influenced our lives in the most wonderful ways. Clarke is so honored to have been taken under your family's wing. He was touched by your mom and dad's love, faith, and unselfish living. All of you made them so proud by the fine children that you were. When George remodeled our house years ago, he would always light up when he spoke of any of you. I know that his and your mother's wise words will echo through the generations of your family. Your parents were truly a bridge of God's love to all people. We will miss them and continue to pray for your family during the coming days and years. God bless you all.
