LP

I just learned today of your mother's death. I had grown to love and respect your mother even though I was only her "Avon Lady". We shared many stories over the years and I could not help but appreciate her deep love for family. She always came to the door when I would bring her her order or just a new book every other week. I also called her every other week and left her a voice message, but never heard back. I realized she was getting weaker but never realized this would happen so soon. I was out of town a lot and not busy with my Avon recently and just started back. Two weeks ago, then again Friday, I felt uneasy when I saw the door. I left a note on her books under the doormat to call me because I was worried about her. Never received a return call on the phone and today I called and I hear it has been disconnected. My heart dropped. I started searching online. It is so hard to lose a friend, and she was such a sincere friend. I will truly miss Mary. I am so very sorry for your loss. You have my deepest sympathy and my prayers for comfort. It is difficult to even know what to say except I loved Mary and will miss her. My heart and compassion to each of you. In His Love, Linda Parker

“ .To the family, please accept my deepest sympathies on your loss. No words express the difficulty of coping with death although I pray the promise God gives in the scriptures strengthen you through this ordeal. . . .And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away.” Rev 21; 4
