“ Marty and I met in the late '80s when I had a contract at Delta-Woodside. She was a funny, gracious, hardworking lady and we became fast friends. Over the next few years, we kept in touch and even commuted a few times when we both worked at close companies in Greenwood. Those commutes together were much more fun than going alone. And, although I have seen her only once since then, we have remained close friends. One thing that I do know about Marty... she really loved her family. I find it hard to believe that she is gone.
God bless you, Marty. You will be missed.
