“ Mega was my grandpa Leroy's sister. She outlived all her siblings. I was always particularly fond of Mega and she was always so sweet to everybody, including my step-grandmother Mildred and me. In Mildred's later years, Mildred and Mega talked on the phone many evenings, checking on each other and saying goodnight. I always loved the way Mega talked. Her sincerity came through her wonderful South Carolina accent. I'll never forget Mega... Love, Libby Langston

“ Sweet Omega, we will miss you so much! I met Omega when I was caring for her sister in law, Mildred Langston. I invited Mildred to a church singing and as a result she got Dottie Davis and Omega to attend a singing. The rest is history. I too have many letters from Omega thanking me for caring for her sister in law. Rest In Peace sweet Omega! I love you! Prayers for all your family '

“ This lady is the closest person that ever came so close to being like my godly grandmothers. When my wife and I started attending praise cathedral. I met this beautiful lady and I loved her from the start just like every person that came in contact with her. Her love for God and then people was overwhelming to me. My nephew worked the nursing home that she was at and he called me one night and told he met this elderly lady that attended praise but didn't know who she was but said someone to be so elderly that she would talk more about God than anything she talked about. She impressed him and I finally ask him to find out her name and I knew from the beginning it was omega. I ask her every Sunday to marry me but she said her schedule was so busy and she loved my wife as she would say that beautiful red head I will so miss her but I will see you soon. Love you beautiful lady

“ I'm so sorry for your loss! May God wrap his loving arms around you with his love, comfort and peace at this very special time.

I will forever treasure my friendship with this dear, sweet special lady. Our loss is Heaven's Gain.

Omega was such a joy to visit. She was always smiling, always feeling good and never complaining about anything. She was just so full of life and so appreciative of our visits. I will certainly miss visiting with her each week and hearing her laughter and sweet voice.

“ I will always remember Omega for the joy of the Lord that lived in her. I would pick at her about getting her a husband. She would tell me she didn't want to have to cook breakfast for anyone. Then we would laugh. She was so faithful to be at church. She always made me feel loved. We are sad but heaven is sweeter today. We love you Omega. Thanks for being a Great example of a joyful Christian.
