“ It was Halloween last year we took the kids trick or treating. Pat said he was keeping his house lights off and not doing anything that night. We stop by so he could see the kids costumes. We got Pat out of bed to answer the door. He turned his porch light on and invited us in. At that time other trick or treaters came to the door. Pat didn't have anything since he wasn't doing treats this time around. It was a good time and one of many great memories of Mr Pat.

RIP Pat.
