“ My name is Curt Miller. I'm not related to Raymond. However my mom, Doris Shuford, was a childhood friend of Raymond. She and Raymond dated during high school and after Raymond went to college. My mom has always told many fond stories about her "first love", Raymond Miller. She and I talked today about Raymond's passing into eternal glory. She told me again about what a gentleman Raymond was and that she is certain he is with our Lord Jesus Christ. I told her that she'll see him again. I look forward to finally meeting Raymond at the feet of our Savior.
Blessings to you and yours.

Uncle Raymond was my great uncle. Miss Clara Bea Miller was my grandmother and his sister. I had grown quite close to Uncle Raymond because he had a friend here in a local nursing home here in Union. My daddy, William Waddell would call me and tell me that him and Uncle Raymond were coming to Union and that Uncle Raymond wanted to eat at Mid-Way. Uncle Raymond would always order two macaroni pie orders-one for now and one for later; and take mine when I didn't eat it. He was such a funny man. And we hit it off really big when he found out I was a Clemson Tigers fan. I loved him a lot and will miss him, all his stories, and all the aggravating dearly.
