“ I grew up on Ricky's farm i moved there when I was around 10 or 11 ,Sarah,Kristen and myself we had some amazing adventures and Ricky kept up busy picking berries running the berry stand and Saturdays picking up eggs I wouldn't trade those years for nothing just wish they had lasted longer. I looked up to Ricky he was a smart man. He will be missed but I know he is beyond happy with his girls he loved his girls, and I know he was more than proud of you both. Prayers for you all.

“ Ricky Youngblood—one of a kind. He and I were FB message buds where the true, intelligent Ricky came through in all his brilliance. His responses were full of love which I greatly respected coming from Ricky. At Greer High, whenever we had conversations—and I wish we had more—I could tell he was giving his total attention to what I was saying. What a compliment ! We planned to have lunch after I moved to Atlanta; it was my fault that we didn't. I was never up to the drive; age 76 has its limitations; I should have tried harder. I will greatly miss his spirit, truly caring personality. My loss . . .
