“ It's hard to find the right words to say to someone at this time. I think just to know people care and are praying for the family is a comfort. It is just a hard time. I can't say time will heal because I don't think it does. I think we learn to go on but it is not easy. Having someone you can talk to that knows, has had that loss may help some. My sister is finding cooking for one is harder and nights just being alone. I pray you find a way to keep busy. Grandchildren are a big part of healing. I know my sister's help her until everyone goes home. So have some over night grandkids parties.
