“ even though its been 12 years, I still miss you as much as i did the day you left but i remind myself that my daddy raised a soldier and that your always with me. Missing you never goes away though. I know that i wasnt the perfect daughter but you helped the better part of me. when you left, i lost sight of myself but by the grace of god im back. You may not be in sight but your always our hearts and minds, when i look at abi i see you. she looks just like you and acts like you too. we tell all them all about you. your memory will continue to live on. We love you and miss you

“ Rachel and Tina, Sometimes words just dont say enough about a situation to bring you the comfort that you need. Just know that we are all praying for you and know that God will meet each and every need. For it is as promise found in the Bible Ps 50:15 And call upon Me in the day of trouble: I will deliver you, and you shall glorify Me. Love you both!!###imported-begin##Cheryl Teems##imported-end##

“ Rachel, Tina and Family...There are really no words that can be said to bring comfort when our hearts are broken by the lost of a loved one. But know people are praying for you now and will be in the days ahead. Always remember to draw near to God and He will be there to sustain you and carry you through. The memories of Robert will forever live on in your lives. Cherish those memories and let them be a source of healing. Love you. Aunt Linda###imported-begin##Aunt Linda##imported-end##
