“ I can't express more fully how the loss of my brother has meant to me. He was not only my brother, friend, protector while I was growing up but someone I could always rely on to help in my times of need. Over the past few years, I must say I thoroughly enjoyed our phone conversations, some of considerable length and the love I had for him. It was always a joy to hear and receive his calls.

Losing a brother is not just another event in life but one of true loss. Memories are now the life-line to sustaining Robert in my life and mind. There is not a day that goes by when he was alive that I didn't think of our times growing up. Now that he has returned home to be with our heavenly Father, I continue to bask in our many conversations and along with the joy he had in his family and patients.

Getting involved with massage therapy was also “therapy” for this loving and compassionate person called Robert.

Please accept my sincere sympathies for your loss. He will be missed

*Love,
Carol - his oldest sister*

“ Robert, a true and gentle man! Our condolences to Barb and their families. The last time we saw Robert was when he brought Holy Communion to Tillie and me and as usual doing God's work joyfully. At Mass you always knew when Robert was there with his singing and prayers most could hear, a real treat lifting our spirits. A special Knight of Columbus, a special man and he will be missed.

“ Robert was a trust-worthy and faithful professional friend who was always willing and eager to help out at my Candleberry Inn B&B & Day Spa in Greer. He was so positive about life and an encouragement to be around. My son, Joel-David, worked under Robert when it was time to do his internship training. This friend was then introduced to me, and it was a joy to have him give special attention to my guests/clients and their special needs as a massage therapist. I loved to talk with Robert about living life but most importantly about spiritual issues knowing the serious teaching of Christ that salvation and eternal life are not through our own good works but through repentance and receiving Christ by faith as our Lord and Savior...The Bible gives us such strong hope of heaven through its infallible truth!

“ Robert was a very special man to our family. He was always so kind and considerate. He helped both of my parents, Jim and Paula "Moosie" Rhodes, with his massages, his stories and his faithfulness in bringing them Holy Communion when they were unable to attend Mass. I was stunned to read of his passing and saddened for the loss of such a gentleman. Heaven certainly gained another angel.

“ Robert will always be remembered as a good, kind and patient man. He was very God-like in his ways. He never had anything but kind words for all that he met and knew. God gave him a great gift in healing with his touch. He will never be forgotten for all that he did in the 12 years that I knew him. I know that he is enjoying the splendor of the Heavens and is looking down on us now. You will be forever in our spirit dear Robert.

“ I knew him through my friend Dr. Somani and have been going regularly for massage therapy for the last 7-8 years. He was not only a good masseur but a great friend. He advised me on so many things we learned a lot from each other. I sleep on a pillow that I bought from him and remember him each night I lie-down my head on that pillow; and some time even cry/sob. His sudden departure without a last buy still bothers me. He did my last massage on 21st of December. I great guy I will never forget until I am alive.
