“ Sara and Miles were our neighbors for many years and were fine, hard-working, amazing people. Their yard was beautiful and their home was immaculate. My best memory of them is when Max and I invited them over for dinner. We were newlyweds, and I was an inexperienced cook. They managed to choke down some tough beef and overcooked vegetables and be gracious and kind! I also attempted to bake some homemade sweetbread for Christmas that year, and Sara finally “suggested” to me that I might not need to distribute any more of that to the rest of the neighborhood. I’ve since turned into a fairly good cook, and thankfully The Comptons were able to enjoy some of it. Although our Woods Chapel neighborhood has completely changed, the people who made the memories sweet will never be forgotten. Sara Compton left her mark on that community.
