“ I grew up with Scott in Holly Springs but moved away while in high school. I remember on New Years Eve of 1983, Scott and I shot off fireworks in his family's back yard (his parents were gone for some reason). We positioned multiple bottle rockets upward on a piece of firewood and used WD-40 and a lighter as a blow torch to set them off all at one time. All the bottle rockets raced into the air exploding while the flame of the WD-40 fire almost raced backward into the can blowing us up! Despite us almost blowing ourselves up, we were laughing the whole time. We were all excited at the time that at midnight on New Years Eve MTV would show the World Premier video of Van Halens new song "1984". We shot off fireworks and watched that MTV video having the greatest time as teenagers.

My condolences to the family whom I knew very well. You guys were a staple in my childhood and I will never forget the good times. Please stay strong!

“ Scott, You taught my son so much more than the game of baseball.....respect, humility, patience. You gave him so much confidence...pitching those balls high and outside every time cause you knew those were the ones he loved to chase! You shared in all his joys and heartaches with him.....and the heartaches were easy cause you knew all you had to do was take him out to feed his face with you and Adam!!! It was one of those times that got you in trouble too!!! When we were in Forest City and you took Jamie and Adam to waste time between games. You all got back to the field and Jamie realized he had left his Nintendo DS somewhere of the 3 or 4 places you had been! You left Jamie and Adam at the field and drove all over Forest City looking for that stupid thing and were late to the game COACH!! Evon, Tyler and Adam thank you for sharing Scott with us. Praying for you all. Amanda Williams

“ I remember Scott playing on the baseball team that my Dad coached with my brother Benny. He was so talented, and worked so hard. We were always on the edge of the bleachers watching him pitch, and hearing his sweet, adorable mother calling out "I'm so proud!" whenever he made a good play. My condolences to his family.

“ *Our hearts are very heavy for the loss of our friend. Scott was a wonderful person...hard working, giving, loving and was always willing to help his customers (friends) while working with PYA/US Foods. He always had a beautiful heart warming smile and his personality was wonderful. Everyone that met Scott just loved him immediately and wanted him as their driver. His customers and cohorts all loved him and filling his shoes was not a easy task. We all miss him terribly. We lift up the Bishop family into God's loving and comforting arms.
