“ I met Scott years ago in Atlanta and only had the pleasure of being in his presence a few times. But my memories of him are fond ones - he was a gentle soul and kind - a true gentleman - rare qualities to find in a man these days. That speaks highly of his parents and the way he was raised. My heart aches for you in losing your child. I wish for you peace and comfort. My prayers are with you. Truly,

“ Scott was always with us with a smile and a laugh. He was a great guy who I considered my friend. We didnt see each other often, just at different functions but he was always friendly and I regret now that I never asked him if he were a christian. I pray he is in heaven watching over us all and auctioning off things for the residents there lol.###imported-begin##Lynn McElroy###imported-end##

“ To Scotts family. First let me say that I have had you in my prayers. Scott and I went to high school together and have remained good friends throughout the years. Our friendship was never changing. Scott remained the loveable guy that I had meet in 1975 at James F, Byrnes HighSchool. Though we saw each other about once a year, our friendship was unwavering. His charm and wit made every one feel like they had known him forever. Your family will continue to be in my prayers.
Scott ... I will see you my friend on the otherside, save me a seat at your table.
Until then. Your friend Vicky Sanders##imported-begin##Vicky Sanders##imported-end##
