“ Dearest Hendrix family,

I only met Sean on Tuesday, of last week, when he was making a service call to my home. He made such an impression on me that I mentioned him to a friend that lives in Greer, as I use too, close to where his parents now live. I have lost my husband during the past few months, and Sean and I talked for awhile, he telling me his life experiences, and hope for his future, and his parents retirement dreams, and me telling him my lost dreams.. He was such a fine young man, who gave me hope for the future of generations coming up. So few of them his age have the hope, and love for our country Most do not know what really matters in life, but he did. God put him in my life that day to give me hope for the future, and I THANK him for this. May GOD bless all of you, and I will pray for you daily, as he is the only one who can help us bare our sorrows.

“ When a child loses their parents, they are called an orphan. When someone loses their spouse they are a widow. But when a parent loses a child, there is no word because the grief cannot be put into words.

Dan, thinking of you and your family on this difficult day. God Bless.##imported-begin##Bridget Young##imported-end##

“ This is a terrible tragedy. I am so sorry this had to happen. Sean and I went to school together. He was always funny and a real pleasure to be around. I had seen him last Christmas with some mutual friends. My heart goes out to his two beautiful girls, his fiancée, and all his family and friends.###imported-begin##HOLLY CHANDLER###imported-end##

“ A message to my cousin. We spent a lot of time together; mostly when we were younger. You sure turned into one fine man Sean - different from the boy with teeth who used to bite me til I bled. When you returned to VT in our early 20's I was glad to have you live with us and have the chance to get to know you once again as adults. You left our world too early - you left behind a part of you that we will always have tho and that is our memories. I'll raise a glass to you tomorrow cousin and toast to you...until we see one another again. Til then, hug our gram for me. I will always love you Sean.##imported-begin##Laurie Knapp Celik##imported-end##

“ It's funny what happens when death arrives. It's funny what happens when you say good-byes memories go rushing through your head. Words remembered that were said. Some words happy some word sad. Some words funny,some words mad. When they told me you went away I realized your memories would always stay. We grew up together we grew apart. The childhood memories will remain in my heart. Cousins forever we will always be you'll always remain a part of me. I'll always remember ill always love you. I got this off of the interent I felt that it best expressed how I felt. Love always Sean.##imported-begin##Tracey Turkovich##imported-end##

“ High school friends are never forgotten. As we grew up, and lost touch with each other. The fun and good times, remained in my thoughts through the years. I have lived in Biloxi Ms. for a few years now but my mother keeps me updated on the Greer News. You were one of the Good ones.##imported-begin##Jim Thomas##imported-end##
