“ Larry and Ann,
I went to work at the Greer office of Duke Power in 1972 and met Tom for the first time. I always liked Tom. He was easy going and had a dry sense of humor. He was always ready to talk fishing, and pretty much everything else if you had the time. Back then you had to learn the basics from the older guys. My how things have changed! Employees just don't get together like they use to and it makes me sad that the older guys are passing away. He was a good man. My thoughts are with you.
