“ Warren, I guess it is not meant for me to say what is in my heart. Every time I have typed you a message, something happens and the computer doesn't post. So, I am allowing Bettyjoe to type this and hope (no, I know) you know what is in my heart. You were such a beautiful and wonderful person, a great son, a magnificent husband to Joy and brother to us. You will be missed by all who KNEW you. Bone and I miss you and love you. We will continue to love and help Joy as always promised. She is our sister and it is within our family to do so. WE know you are with Jesus and we will see you again.
Heartbroken,

“ Brother, it was such a wonderful day when I got to say that to you; especially when I saw the returning smile on your face. It is truly difficult to understand God's plan. Trust and know we will continue to look after Joy and keep her in our prayers and lives.
